Re: Form LM-30 (2005) – File No. U-12199

Dear Sir/Madam:

I am the Executive Director of the Major League Baseball Players Association (MLBPA). Enclosed you will find my completed form LM-30 for calendar year 2005.

Item reported: You will note that my report has one item on it, an engraved metal bat given to me as a souvenir by Bud Selig, the Commissioner of Baseball, to commemorate my service on the Commissioner's Initiative on "Major League Baseball in the 21st Century", a group that he put together to look at the industry's challenges and opportunities going forward. Representatives of many companies that do business with Major League Baseball served on this group, along with members of the media and academics. Each member received this item from the Commissioner as a token of his or her participation. While I do not know the value of this bat, for purposes of this report I am prepared to assume that it has a value equal to or greater than $250. I do not consider this item to belong to me, but rather to the MLBPA.

Other items: Other items received were not reported because they were of a value below the reporting requirements and/or were returned. I mention them here because if I am in error in any way by not reporting them, please advise and I will amend the report. These items included:

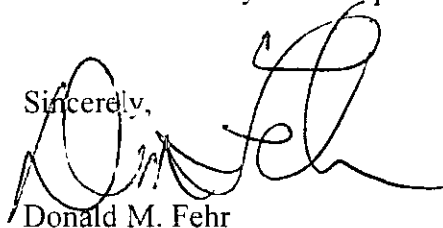

- 1) A scarf from a representative of an entity who organizes games in Japan, which had a value of less than $25. I did not retain it, but gave it to an MLBPA staff member.
- 2) A Starbucks "gift card" with a value of $10 received from an entity (Diversified Investments) who would, I assume, like to do business with us. We do not have any business relationship with this firm.

- 3) A holiday candy box with a value I assume to be $25-30 received from a company who does public relations work for the MLBPA. This item was returned.
- 4) A 2006 calendar received from an investment firm with whom we do not do business, but which employs a former player, having a value of $16.
- 5) A bottle of wine from the President of ESPN, an entity which broadcasts major league games and frequently interviews players. I don't know the value of this item. It was returned.
- 6) A holiday "lemon cake" from a law firm which represents the MLBPA. I do not know the value, but assume it to be about $25. This item was returned.

Thank you for your consideration. If there is any further information you need, please advise.

Sincerely,

Donald M. Fehr
